

NISP Participants Description

(for use at end of all future media releases and in all formal communications and informational items)

The NISP Participants is an organization of 200,000 northern Colorado residents represented by 15 local and regional water agencies and municipalities dedicated to providing today's and future generations a sustainable and environmentally sound supply of water. The organization also represents local, regional and statewide businesses, civic and agricultural associations. (See gladereservoir.org for a complete list of supporters and endorsements)

If we select a new name for group we could insert the new name:

Communities for Water is an organization.....